ALEX SPEAKS

This issue sees the biggest-ever print-order for Zipper magazine, and although for many reasons I can't divulge the figure, it is certainly higher than our well-known competitors. For some time we have been printing too few copies, and this has meant we have been unable to "flood the market" as some of our friends in the business have been able to do, resulting in Zipper being rarer than gold dust in many places.

A welcome must go out to Chris Brown of the London Blues, who is taking over from Bryan Derbyshire the task of compiling news on the leather and denim scene. I'm sure Chris will be happy to get letters from you on the subjects he covers, and any club news and information should also be addressed to him at the office.

ZIPPER STAFF NEWS

Latest person to join the staff at Camden Town in Phillip Rogers, whose delightful Welsh accent is often to be heard on the phone line when it's his turn to man the switchboard! He previously worked for a rival publication in Notting Hill as a display advertisement manager, and now he'll be organizing sales of ad-space for Zipper and Mister including the Personal Columns.

Those of you who saw the "Zipper" float at the Gay Pride Parade will have noticed the expert display work of Geoff Norris, who joined us as a temporary measure after the lease of his own shop ran out. Well, he's still with us, and seems to be generally spreading good taste in our shop display, and will hopefully ease some of the burden of publicity and magazine design over the next few months.

DUNGEON DEVICES

Have just seen preview of a great new book on "S&M Dungeon Devices".. Not that I know anyone who is into all that of course... nervous cough... but I thought someone might like to know about it! A great number of pictures of the various bits of what the book calls "Abusive Furniture", actually being used by various contestants in the game of Lust are jammed into the pages. There is no colour at all, but at a silly price of £2.50, I didn't argue. The book is the brainchild of an American concern who make these cruel bits of hardware, but I think it would be cheaper to have it made over here. (I do know a London guy who specialises in such things, write to me, and I'll pass on your letters to him.)

"S&M Dungeon Devices" Available from Ajax-Zipper, 283 Camden High Street, NW1 Price £2.50.

GAY CONFESSIONS

The third issue of our regular story-magazine is out now, with seven super sexy Confessions inside the covers! As usual, there is a story featuring the boy-next-door which we can all identify with; to flights of pure erotic fantasy. How do we do it for just £1.25 plus postage?

CAN'T GET YOUR ZIPPER

Since the distributors, Moore-Harness Ltd got into financial difficulties, we have changed to a new firm called Thames News Ltd, but this has meant a severe loss of shop outlets for the magazine, especially outside London. If we are to continue improving Zipper's contents, we must increase our sales, and to do that we have to enlist the help of our more stalwart readers!

A bit of detective-work by a few readers can save Zipper from being banished from the newsagents of the land. If the shop where you used to get Zipper, (before issue 13) now no longer carries it, we need to know why. And we need to know the name of this local supplier who has stopped getting his usual bundles of Zipper. Then we can rectify the problem and supply your locality with magazines. But we need your help to get the outlets!!!!

BLACK MODELS

I like to think I have no prejudices, but am I right in assuming we'd lose readers if we put a whole lot of black guys in one issue, or even put one on the cover?

The problem arises, because I recently had a period of a few weeks where every decent guy who came to me to model was black. Not a single photogenic white came my way for such a long time that I was near despair. Could I put six black guys in one issue, I thought. Would the circulation fall to half normal overnight? Would our readership consist of just black-fanciers and the colour-blind, like myself?

Finally I decided that I couldn't afford to risk the possiblity that a significant percentage of our readers would not like an all-black issue, and we'd better not gamble with our jobs. Did I do right? Is it pandering to racism? I don't know, but I've photographed most of those chunky black numbers, and they'll be turning up in future issues, one at a time, or maybe two, but no more. And it really is true, when they're big, they really are big.

LETTERS

BISEXUAL BUILT FOR TWO

Dear Editor,

It is often said that gay men are gay from youth, but I wonder how many men turn gay because of disappointment with women? I am now 46 years old and have had occasional sex with other men during the past 12 years.

I took the passive part the first time, and it was the most fantastic experience of my life. I never enjoyed sex with a woman like that. Being made love to by a man is terrific, I think why I enjoyed it so much is because with a man I know he is just doing it for pleasure, there is no need to be involved in a relationship like with a woman./ There are some who would violently argue with that! -Ed.

I am now bisexual, but prefer sex with a man. The trouble is to find partners. I am trying and in Zipper, as it seems to be the best mag for ads, certainly the cheapest. I love the whole magazine!

Are most men just like me, preferring contacts just for sex, or do they look for a deeper relationship? In fact I could never think of sex with a guy I know, but to meet a stranger and find he wanted to do it makes me so excited, I don't care what he looks like. Women are so lucky, they can get all they want, but I'm glad there are still a few men about who like a fella.

John, Wembley.

Ed: Well, John, I'm sure some people would agree with you about having sex with friends, but that is not the same thing as having sex with an affair. You could be missing out on a lot of warmth and comfort that you can't get from casual take-away sex encounters.

DONT SPARE THE ROD ALEX!

Dear Alex,

It is pretty obvious from the personal ads in Zipper that about half of the guys have a preference for some sort of CP. I know the law is is pretty strict about photos of this sort being shown in magazines, but I am old enough to remember the "Royale" storyettes, many of which showed naughty schoolboys with their knickers down over the knees of a Prefect or schoolmaster who later wielded a cane. Another involved footballers being disciplined by their coach, and others of youths in uniforms, bared for the cane. I can also remember the old Physique Pictorials which had the same sort of thing with slave boys being chastised by their Masters.

With reference to CP, Mr Storey's pictures of Greg Stone show him to be the ideal mastertype, he's already got the cane!

Roger Johnsone, London SE

ED: Well, personally, I have nothing against anyone's sex games, because they are "games" and not real life aggro. But the trouble is we couldn't put such naughties in the magazine without either legal headaches, or more likely, a loss of retail outlets run by the more old-fashioned type of newsagent. How about naughty photo-sets, would that do you?

BELT IDEA

Dear Alex,

How about this for a new idea in daytime wear? I recently took an old Scout belt, (leather 1") and wound it around my cock and balls. One end was then wound up my arse to the hip, and the other end straiaght to the hip from the front. Once tied up very tight, it is sensational!

You can't see the belt under your jeans, but it makes the cock more prominent. And it feels marvellous.

Best wishes, David, Coventry.

FANTASY

This readers' delight comes from a bloke named "Dick" who lives south of the great Metropolis. Apart from picking up guys on British Rail trains, he is deeply into Insurance, Pink Floyd and bondage. Let no one say Zipper readers are a one-tracked mind lot.

The commuter train to and from work every day can be a real drag. The one hour trip in either direction often becomes tedious and uneventful. Since I'm a youthful 28 years old I still have quite a zest for life. Usually I prop myself in the last seat of the train and watch all the hunks of young executives come abroad. They are usually fresh and prim in the morning and very worn out on the ride home. I'm very discreet about my glances, but I must admit that some of those trim bodies and college boy faces can be encompassing. One evening I spotted a strapping young guy coming down the aisle. He must have been between 19 and 25 years old. He obviously was not one of my fellow commuters since he didn't wear the typical uniform, the well fitted suit. I was almost shocked when he moved all the way down the aisle and sat right next to me. I was in complete ecstasy. Very casually I surveyed his handsome features. His face was of the order of Robert Redford's and his well groomed, medium length, blond hair was a golden fantasy. He filled his clothes well and the rather plain shirt stretched tightly over a well formed chest. The object of my desire was the appearance of this Adonis below the belt. It was no disappointment. He spread his legs to give me a full view of the structure underneath his tight, brown corduroys.

The powerful looking legs and the clearly defined bulge was too much to take in one grasp. Obviously I became totally enthralled since the train was already moving when I regained my senses. Just being so close to him gave me a tremendous rock hard in my penis. He must have observed my fleeting glances since he smiled on one occasion. I became a little embarrassed. Suddenly he moved close to me and whispered in my ear that I should relax since he had taken note that I was busting through the crotch of my pants. This was all too much to believe. Very gently he rubbed the inside of my thighs and moved his hand up over the vest that was bracing my chest. I nearly came right there and then, but held back for more playfulness. Finally he strongly grabbed hold of my long, hard cock which was hoping for release from the confining garment over it. With the entire train engulfed in newspapers and everything else my boy wonder caressed most of my body. After a while I couldn't resist the desire and became acquainted with his beautiful features. The cock I touched was big enough to keep two guys occupied! He suggested that we go to the rest room. This really frightened me. Two guys in the rest room was very obvious, especially in a crowded train. Well his plan for us to get in there without notice worked. This guy took no haste in lowering my trousers and my rod stood a mile high. I felt the soft, wet, hot mouth totally encompass my powerful muscle. He spent several minutes working me into a frenzy. He later placed three fingers far up my ass and probed that area with a steady vibrating movement. I finally couldn't hold back and shot a very full wad into this guy's wanting throat. The cum dripped from his lips as he withdrew from between my legs. At that very second, just as I was getting ready t o feast on some cock myself, the guard yelled out a station stop. The guy quickly wiped his face with his shirtsleeve and sped out of the rest room. As I scrambled to pick up my pants I figured that we were apparently at his top. Sure enough, my man of desire was gone. I sat down somewhat pleased that my train ride had been livened up to such a degree. I could have never believed that we would have gotten away with it. Now everyday I sit waiting in the last seat knowing that the boy wonder will return, one day.

METALLIC BODY PAINT

Dear Mr McKenna,

I thoroughly enjoyed the new look MISTER and like many others I prefer to see the models in some form of gear as I find that straightforward over hairy nudes can become a bit dull. For this reason I particularly liked John Paulin in the space fantasy.

For many years I did metallic modelling for statuary totally covered in a fantastic gold or silver paint but being now 52 I have no longer the physique for it. Would a similar sort of series of pix of a guy be of interest? I know that it would be to me. I assume that John was using just a smear of Leichener metallic grease paint but it hardly shows unfortunately. I have used this many times as it can be kept on for long periods but it isn't really very effective and it is very expensive when the whole body is covered in it.

After a lot of trial and messy error I devised a metallic paint that gives a really good reflective coating and is ideal for pix and statuary, stage use and even dual wrestling etc. Like any other shiny paint it needs to go onto a well prepared smooth surface and this involves a full body shave which some models don't seem to like. All told I did some fifty sessions mainly out of doors or warehouse or similar locations but also some under studio conditions. As the paint tends to block the pores of the skin it cannot be worn for too long at a time and the time is largely dictated by the heat, humidity and activity. It was for this reason that whenever possible I modelled in the open or somewhere reasonably cool. Under hot studio lighting about thirty minutes is enough but up to three hours is possible in good conditions. Every square inch of skin is coated including the cock and the face but for a series it is quite a good idea to show the shaved body and then the various stages of painting.

It is obviously messy to wear and it is hot and very sexy stuff but it comes off quite easily followed by a hot shower or bath in due course. The head hair can be painted but I wouldn't recommend it as it is not easy to remove. I used a skin tight rubber skull cap held taught with spirit gum but a helmet or wig can go over this if required.

It is probably best to model nude but if a cover is needed I found that a transparent G string, an unsupported fig leaf or a mini slip were best. Once painted the model marks anything he touches or wears but chain or metal props, handcuffs etc are ideal and easily cleaned.

A black backdrop is best and for floor work a black plastic sheet with the silver and deep red or blue for the gold. The silver shows up very well in black and white pix and in a studio the silver takes coloured lighting and UV.

Yours

Angus, Kent

THE NIGHT VISITOR

"There's a new one circling the block tonight."

"Hmmm. What's he like!"

"Put that screw-driver down and get your ass over here and catch him before he turns that corner there ... hell, you just missed him."

"What's he like?"

"What'd he look like?"

"Gorgeous hunk. Black hair, moustache, shoulders like a freight truck. I could hear his balls clanging together. Bet he's got a cock like a bull."

"Anything in pants is a bull to you."

"Ha look whose talking!"

"You trying to accuse me of something evil?"

Andy giggles and leans in the doorway of my car repair shop. He cranes his neck anxiously to the left so he can catch that "gorgeous hunk" again. I go to the rear of my shop where I'm working on a VW; instead of picking up my screw-driver again, I open my refrigerator and pull me out another Bud. I keep my fridge loaded with suds in hot weather and tonight it's a motherfucker.

My service station garage sits here on the corner of Chestnut Street and directly across the street is a motel, a quiet sedate faciltiy that's a favorite spot for traveling salesmen, truckers, families, anybody. Not all of them like or want male action but there's enough who do to make my nights pass by agreeably. Several times a week, a lone traaveling male will walk by my garage, go around the block behind me, see the dead end, travael around another block and then make his way back. If I'm interested, I'll make a point of standing in the doorway with a can of beer in my hand and make and invitation. If he's not interested, he'll decline and no hard feelings. If he's not interested, he'll decline and no hard feelings. If he accepts my drinking invitation, I know I've got it made.

I remember the first stud I had back here, Name was Ruben. I would see him passing by my place at night, his hands stuck in his jacket pocket, smoking a cigar, a bored look on his face. I invited him to join me for a few beers and he did. After about eight Buds he was getting drunk and had to take a piss.

"Piss in the corner there," I grinned. "I don't give a shit."

He dropped his pants, his BVD's chuckling all the time, and put a hand around his stiffening crowbar; while his urine shot out in a strong, steaming stream, he kept running a thumb over his dick-hole, momentarily stopping the golden shower, the letting it spring forth again. Even after he stopped taking his leak, that thumb was digging into the opening of his cock until his lovemuscle was bulging. He leaned back on the hood of the car I was working on (I always keep one in here at night because they can come in handy) and I went over and stooped down, grabbed me a fist full of balls and dick and slid my mouth around his knob. I was just sinking that juicy column of meat into my throat when I felt him shooting off — a geyser of cum! I managed to swallow as much as I could but a lot of it ran out.

"God!" I finally managed to gasp. "You been saving up for a year or are you always filled up with a gallon like that?"

He snorted and wiped his nose with the back of a large, hairy hand. "shiiit. I always come quick the first time. Stay on that fucker and let's see what he'll do." I needed no prompting and quickly stuffed his wet organ back into my mouth; within seconds, I could feel it stiffening and within five minutes, he was exploding with another Niagara of sperm, only this time I watched it...great clouts spattered against the wall, and other spurts left white puddles on the floor. Ruben was gasping, his stomach sinking in and out, and sweat made his body wet, smelling of salt and fresh semen. His hand grabbed mine and he mashed it down on his genitals.

"Fuck it! Rub that hole and get it hard again, Quick, dammit! I'm hot!" Startled, I obeyed and massaged my forefinger in and around the opening of his prick, feeling its sticky contents. Incredibly, within a minute, I could feel the skin tightening under my hand and watched it rise up again. I repeated my oral ministrations and took it all and felt his phallus hardening; I pulled it out and jacked him off and the stains of white liquid continued to grow on my floor.

And that's how "The Milkman," as I called him teasingly, became a nightly visitor to my shop. I never got to know him well and we had nothing in common, often never exchanging more than five words during his visits. But he delivered fresh cream, alright, more than I could handle. He was like a cow — you stroked his appendage and the mild would start flowing — rich and bubbly and abundant. One night, he let me work on him all night to see how much joy juice he could produce. I would save each load in a measuring cup I brought from home. By dawn, I had collected nearly half a pint. I was surprised when he took the cup from my hand and playfully held it up to his nose. He sniffed it and pretended to faint from happiness. Then, he held the container to his lips and sipped some of the frothy "beverage."

"Ummmmm," he sighed. "Not bad, not bad. And fresh from the tap."

"Hey Pete," Andy calls out, all excited. "I think he's coming back this way."

"Who?"

"Who? The stud bull, fool. Get him in here for a beer and let's see what happens."

"Keep your pants on, sweetie," I drawl lazily and finish off my beer and reach for another. "It'll be another half hour before he gets here."

I should know. I can see in my mind all those strangers, wanting quiet, discreet action, making their rounds along these streets...all pretending to be strollers interested in nothing more than the scenery, the stars and the picturesque, old post office up a block behind my garage. Then, when they pass back towards the motel, this time walking on my side of the street, my offer of a cold beer in summer or a cup of hot coffee in winter can disarm them completely because I am so bland and unimportant and straight looking. But after they get to know me, they quickly understand that I'm a man who likes dick.

There was that black dude, Wilbur. He was a short, muscular guy, cocky as hell and could really be a smart-ass, but he and I had a lot of laughs. He was attending some kind of convention and the first night he was in town, he happened to be strolling by my place and accepted my offer "for a few suds."

He complained and complained, I remember, about how hot it was.

"If you're so fucking hot," I grinned, "Take off your clothes and I'll wet you down with this hose here." He laughed and clapped his hands and said; "You a genius man, a genius." And proceeded to strip buck naked. I was working on a Corvette that night so Wilbur leaned back and I turned the cold water on him; he had a big knob and a thin stalk but it began bobbing in erection as I playfully concentrated the spray of water in that area. Wilbur chuckled and turned around and leaned over so his ass was thrust upward almost in my face. He had some pair of buns—big, firm, perfectly round with a very deep cleft.

"Run the water between my big black crack," he said. I pushed the end of the nozzle along that division of cheeks and ole Wilbur began grinding his crotch against the grill-work of the Corvette.

"Put something up there,, man," he groaned. "Something motherfucking big!"

Curiously, I ran a finger along his wet rectum and slid it easily in. I tried another finger, and that one, too, sunk in without difficulty. I stooped down and got my fingers greasy in a pot of motor oil and coated my arm with the stuff. I knotted my hand into a fist and with slow, cautious poking around, I edged it up through that dripping ass-hole and didn't stop until it came up to my elbow. Wilbur hissed and convulsed and stretched his neck upwards but he didn't try to escape my fist which I began pounding back and forth, back and forth, and my fingers felt a moist, empty vacuum of wet tissues and muscle. Each time Wilbur rose up and down on my fist, it made sucking sounds. He half turned his face towards me and his face was all puckered up in sexual pain that had more than a trace of joy mixed in; his nose was all crinkled up, dragging the upper lif from the teeth and tears slid over his blunt features.

"Oh God!" he cried softly, shaking his head and increasing the rapidity of his butt motions. "So fucking good, Pete! Oh, God, Pete, don't take it out!" He began sobbing softly and arched his back so he could get more of my arm up inside him. My hand was getting sore, pumping it non-stop like that, and Wilbur's ass-hole clamped rhythmically around my wrist until it, too, became painful. i finally pulled out and Wilbur, whimpering and groaning, grabbed my hand and began licking it clean of his internal juices. i forced him to his feet and propped him against the grill-work of the car. In stupor he let me beat him off so I could have his cum for my collection on the floor. "Nedd something bigger man!" he wept continuously. "Get something really big." After a week, however, he too left our town and I sometimes wish ole Wilbur would drop back by here again.

"Get on out here, Pete," Andy hisses. "He's on his way. And he's coming in this direction."

I look at my watch. Yep. It's about that time. I walk casually out to the open door of my garage and look to my right, sipping my beer. The stranger has stopped to light a cigarette; a street lamp, yellow, shining through a small oak, throws his features into shadows, giving him a larger-than-life look. Indeed, he is a gorgeous hunk. His brows are drawn together in a scowling 'V' as he strains to get his cigarette smoking against the night breeze. His hands are large and powerful as is the rest of him. He begins walking towards me.

"Howdy, stranger," I grin, "Whew! Hell of a hot night. You're new, ain't cha? Ain't seen you around these parts before."

"Yeah. Just stopping through for a night." His voice is low, with more than a trace of Southern accent. He looks from me to Andy who is standing self-consciously in the doorway. Andy's frizz of golden curls glows from the yellow light inside the garage.

"My young friend here and I were just getting ready to have a good, icy beer. I'd be pleased if you could join us."

The young man doesn't answer. He removes his cigarette with thumb and second finger and throws it on the ground and smashes it out on the sidewalk. Then, silently, he nods his head.

The garage doors are closed and locked now and the stud takes the beer and sits down on the fender of the car, spreading his legs wide, and leans back, rubbing a hand across his chest.

"My name's Roger," he grunts after I have introduced myself and Andy. Silence. We take a sip of our beverage. It's so warm that we can all smell each other and the strongest odor—of wet flesh, hair, cigarettes, Old Spice deodorant—emanates from my new visitor.

"Jesus, it's hot in here," he mumbles suddenly. He puts his can of beer down on the floor and pulls off his shirt and wipes his face with it. No undershirt covers those swelling pectorals, matted with dark hair, or the washboard stomach and narrow waist.

"You must be a bodybuilder," Andy ventures timidly.

Roger shrugs. "I work out some, kid. Like to feel good. Like to make my muscles hard. You wanna feel something like a rock, come over and feel this."

He raises his right arm and flexes his bicep, which is huge. Andy scurries over and sits down beside the young Apollo and runs his hand over the smooth, blue-veined rock of flesh and muscle.

"It's not just chest and shoulders I try to keep developed," Roger continues, "but all the rest of me too. Feel that, kid."

He slaps a hand on his thigh. Andy runs a hand along that area, slowly.

"It's...it's not easy to tell how muscular you are there with those pants on, Roger."

"We'll take care of that," replies the bodybuilder, winking at me. He raises his hips and unbuckles his belt, unzips his pants, and pushes them on down. He is clad only in a pair of black bikini briefs and they are bulging, ready to burst at their seams.

I sit down quietly on his other side and Roger leans back with his hands behind his neck and closes his eyes. Now is the time. He's ready. He's hot. I know by instinct when to take the plunge and this slice of prime beef wants to make it—now! Andy is afraid to take the initiative. I run my hand over that protruding mound behind that thin sheath of black; his cock feels solid and hot. I get down on my knees and between his legs and pull the breifs down and his hard dick springs up like a snake and slaps his abdoman with the head digging into his navel. He purses his lips and keeps his eyes closed.

He has an uncut knob and I wrap my fingers around the bulky column of flesh. With the others I pull the skin away from the head...the clear juice is already rolling thickly down the sides, like syrup, onto the balls; I cup the two mounds of meat in my hands and squeeze them while placing my lips around the head, then lower as I take in about four inches, then lower until I can feel it struggling to pass my tonsils. Placing both hands on his muscular thighs, I push my head downward, hard, and now the rest of his cock is sliding deeper into my neck where it nestles snug and throbbing. i begin blowing him and I jerk my head up and down, squeezing his balls, massaging them, and his groans are coming out in high, whistling puffs of breath. I almost choke as a flood of liquid pours from his swollen penis into my stomach. It isn't cum or fuck fluid, it's...piss! I swallow thirstily, it tastes clear and slightly salty and fills my stomach but I let some of it seep out of the corners of my mouth onto his bush of black pubic hair. There are still inches of his long beauty that I cannot get into my throat and so, with both hands, I start stroking him, like a dairyman would milk the teat of a cow. I can feel Roger tightening in my mouth, his phallus is swelling even larger and he is writhing his narrow, sweaty hips..

"Jesus...sweet Jesus..." he moans. "It's coming out, get ready..."

I tug and pull his meat out of my mouth just in time to see it shooting straight against the wall...for several seconds, the white liquid pumps out and I watch, fascinated, at Roger's big balls contracting with each spurt. His dick hangs glistening and red from its exertion. Roger opens his eyes, gasping, his muscled stomach gleaming with sweat. Without saying a word, he looks at Andy who had been sitting there, hunched, watching me and Roger get into it hot and heavy. The bull pulls Andy's hand to the naked organ that is already beginning to stir again. With a soft cry, Andy stoops over and engulfs the penis in his mouth and soon that sturdy member is flying full mast again. I watch Andy suck if for several minutes and can tell how far in his throat he has managed to stuff the monster. Then, Roger slides back on the hood of the little car, pulls Andy's head away from his prick and jerks the blonde-haired youth's pants down. Quickly, Andy straddles Roger and sits down on the cock and proceeds to get fucked. I watch Roger's own white buns opening and closing to his thrusting and get and idea. i run a finger along his ass-hole and it is wet, a little tight, but not too much so. I slip my finger in there, push it around, then a second one; he doesn't stop his screwing. I look down and at my feet is the end of a broom handle I was using earlier in the day to get some things from out under the seat of the Corvette; now, I reach over and pick it up, then dip it into a bucket of oil. Then I place the dripping object at the entrance of Roger's rectum. Gently, I slip it into the hole. An inch at first. Roger stops his fucking for only a second, then begins with renewed vigor. I push the stick in further and Roger pumps his hips even faster. Now he stops, and with both hands, reaches down and whacks his meat furiously and groans and tosses when his second, great load explodes.

"Christ! Christ almighty!"

He pulls at his now purple knob, fingers his ass-hole, sighs with contentment; he slides off the car and gets dressed. He squares his shoulders and without a word or look, he goes to the garage door, unlocks it and disappears. A few minutes later, Andy leaves, too, smilingly quiet.

Now, I am alone again. But not for long. There will be somebody out there tomorrow night, walking by. It could be you. If you see me standing in the doorway with a beer in my hand, take me up on my invitation for "some suds." After all, in my garage, I can fix anything.

No.1 for 8 Years!

With Cream, Sir?

Steve Worcester

If anyone ever told me I'd go two weeks and three days without sex, I'd have them certified. Yet since I'd been in hospital for an emergency appendix operation, I'd not even had so much as a wank. Since I was fourteen, I've wanked at least twice a day. Even at times when I've been hardest pressed by work or whatever, I've tossed off at least once. There has never been any twenty four hour period from that time till now without sex of some description. Yet for two weeks and three days—nothing. Not even a hard-on.

I'd been serving at the post office counter, when suddenly I was doubled over with pain. A cooleague shut my position, and before I knew where I was I was being driven to the hospital. An emergency operation, and ten days in hospital, followed by complete rest at home followed. I was still sore, though the stitches had knitted, and I'd had them removed at out-patients the previous day. You never realise how upset the whole system can become following an operation. Of course, the cuddley nurses hadn't done anything for me either. Maybe if I'd had a young hunky male nurse...

The day after the stitches were taken out was my sister's wekking. Chrissy and Brian had been going together for five months—practically every night as well—but they wanted the whole spiel of the white wedding. As usual, the family gathered, as they only do for weddings and funerals—booze-ups in either case, however genteel the setting or elegant the meal.

Still recuperating, I found the whole wedding a bore beyond words. The doddery vicar droning on, the dreary hymns, Chrissy and Brian swearing to be faithful and true—he's had plenty of crumpet even while going with Chrissy, and she's quite good now with her dildo and the vibrator kit—and then the elegant booze-up. My appetite had recovered and I wolfed down the chicken dinner.

Most of the tables at the "do"—at a very posh local hotel—were served by waitresses in their white and black outfits. But our table and one other were served by waiters. The one who waited on my table was about twenty two, wore skin-tight black flaired trousers and a very tight fitting shirt with a sexy little bow-tie. I fancied him rotten. As I watched his tight arse and saw the nice bulge under his zip, I got a hard-on that made up for two and a half weeks of no sex. I was almost desperate for sex, and didn't want to waste two and a half weeks of hot spunk on a quick wank under the table.

The waiter was a really good looking guy, with dark hair and complexion that suggested a strong dash of Latin blood. I've had plenty of Italian and Spanish bed-buddies, and I go wild for them. I decided to try and cruise him and see the response.

I watched him cross the room towards us, holding high the tray with the strawberry gateaux and cream. The tight shirt clung to his well-developed chest, and the tight trousers were pulled even tighter round his magnificent crotch. He started serving from the other side of the table, so I had ample time to watch him. His eyes sparkled, and he moved sleekly. I held my hand gently over my trembling hard-on cock under the table. As he arrived opposite me, his eyes flashed at me for a moment, but he went on serving.

When he served Auntie Flo next to me, he stood between me and her, as he served. I let my hand brush against his waist, as I pretended to move my serviette. I suppose it was 17 days abstinance that made the physical contact so exciting. I dropped my hand and let it brush against his thigh. My hand moved slightly away after touching him, but to my surprise and excitement, he moved his leg so it pressed against his hand. I pressed back.

He turned to me with a smile.

"Strawberries, sir?" I nodded with a smile. He grinned back. As he served me, I let my hand rub up and down his leg. Our eyes met and we smiled. He paused, surveying my dish.

"That's nice, sir?" I knew what he meant. I nodded and met his sparkling eyes.

"Cream, sir?" I nodded, still gently rubbing his leg. He poured on some cream.

"Is that enough cream, sir?" I looked up at him.

"I'll take all the cream you've got!" He flashed me a sparkling grin, his white even teeth showing even whiter against his dark complexion.

"You can have as much cream as you like, sir". As he poured more on my plate, I gently pinched his leg.

His serving dish was now empty, but he paused before going back to refil it. I picked up the spoon, and deliberately spilt a little cream into my lap. He took the cue.

"Oh, sir. Here let me help you", and quick as a flash he was dabbing in my lap with his serving cloth. Of course his hand closed over the length of my throbbing cock squeezing it gently. I nearly creamed myself then.

"Is that all right, sir!" Our eyes met agin, and we were both laughing quietly.

ç"Perfect", I murmered.

I began to demolish the sweet, and when he returned with more, he began serving from the other side of me, which gave me further opportunity to touch up his leg that side. Before he moved on, he turned to me, and quietly said;

"Are you all right for cream, sir?" I nodded.

To all others, if they had cared to watch, our behaviour was perfectly normal. But I knew I was well away.

The dinner finished, the speeches droned on—why does everyone who makes a speech think everyone has come only to listen to their crap?—and then the dancing. During the dancing, tea was being served. At one point, I was sitting alone at the table watching the dancing, and wondering when I could meet the waiter. I needn't have worried. He came across the room, weaving in and out of the dancing couples, as the band played "Tie a Yellow Ribbon Round the Old Oak Tree". He had a tray piled with sandwiches, and began putting them on the table. I watched him the whole time, and he glanced at me several times, a lewd grin on his face and his eyes flashing wickedly. Having unloaded his tray, he came and stood next to me. Hidden by the table, I let my hand run up and down his leg again.

"Don't you want to dance, sir?" I grinned up at him.

"Are you asking me?" For answer he arched one eyebrow. I pulled up his trouser leg and thrilled as I touched the hair of his leg. Our eyes met.

"What time can you leave the wedding?" he asked me.

"Anytime at all. When do you get off?" He glanced at his watch.

"As soon as the tea is served. Then I just see the boss, collect my cash, and..."

"Give me the tip when you're off. I'll meet you outside in my maroon mini".

He blew me the tiniest kiss, and went off. I had to admire his magnificent beefy arse as he went back to the kitchens. I wished the dancers hadn't got in the way of my view of him, but smiled as I though of the night ahead. All Saturday night and Sunday. Great!

I got up and made my way over to Chrissy. She was in the middle of the conga-line, but I managed to get her out, wish her well with Brian, and say that as I was still feeling sore and rather tired, I had to start making my way. I shook hands with Brian, hoped their honeymoon night would be as successful as they had been for the last five months—and not to forget the durex!—and I was off.

I sat in my mini on the corner near the entrance to the kitchens. It was warm and clear for May, but I only had a minute to wait. The door clicked and my friend was sitting next to me. There was only a second's hesitation, then we kissed. The first kiss was almost quick and experimental. The second was longer. He poked his tongue in my mouth, and I responded. Then I jerked away.

"Let's get back to my place, then the sky's the limit"

I raced back to my flat, parked the car, and before we knew it the door was closed behind us. Ronald [his name was Ronaldo, and he was Italian] clasped me to him. We kissed, great long open-mouthed kisses, our cocks crushing against eachother. As we kissed, we began undressing eachother. Our mouths hardly parted. We kicked off our shoes, ripped down our trousers, and tore off our shirts. Except for socks, we were starkers, still kissing frantically. I really freaked as I grabbed his cock. It was thick, steel-hard and a good eight inches.

Tearing myself away from him I stood back to look at him, as he surveyed me. We both liked what we saw. I grabbed his hand and led him over to the bed. Gently I put my hands on his shoulders, and eased him onto his back on the bed. I picked up the tube of KY and lovingly coated his trembling cock. Already sex-juice was dripping down it, and mine was well lubricated. I lifted myself up, and impaled my arse on his quivering cock. I closed my eyes, held my breath and thrilled as it speared me, I let out a sigh of delight and sheer pleasure as I felt his crotch hair tickling my bum and we "locked" together. The length of my cock lay on his belly and my balls underneath, already twitching with excitement.

My hands ran over his beautiful dark body, while he grasped my cock with one hand and fondled my balls with the other. He held my cock-shaft between his fingers.

"Hell, Steve, that is one mighty hard-on. Hard as steel". I grinned. "I told you, Ron, this is the first sex I've had for seventeen days. I've got enough cum saved up to fuck all night—and I'm going to!" We both laughed.

"Oh it feels good to have a cock up my arse again. You're a great bed-mate, Ron".

"I knew you were cruising me at the wedding. I had trouble keeping my cock down, Steve, 'specially with you touching my legs".

I began moving gently, and Ronald responded. I knew it wasn't going to be long before I hit the high spot. It had been a long interval, and I was too excited. I speeded up my movements. My cock was bobbing up and down with excitement, and the pre-cum juice was dripping in great gobs down the shaft. Ronald rubbed the juice into the shaft, and round my balls. I was moaning and gasping in excitement. I began bouncing more fiercely, and Ronald wanked me harder, squeezing my balls as well.

"Oh, Steve! I'm gonna shoot...now...now...NOW...I'M CUMMING!!!" and I felt his big dick jerk deeper into me and explode. I felt his hot jissom spurting deep into my guts, as he arched his back upwards, penetrating ever further. In his ecstasy he wanked me very hard and squeezed my balls tight. That did it. He pushed me over the edge of the most extreme climax I've ever had.

My cock jerked so violently he lost his grip on it. The first spurt hit Ron on the chin, and the successive jerks spurted out great jets of hot spunky cum that splattered all over his chest and belly. My cock just jerked and bucked spewing out more and more. It seemed as if it would never stop. Every jerk gave me an added thrill, keeping me high for those few seconds longer. My cock tingled fantastically with every spurt of cum, and I tensed, enjoying every wonderful thrilling sensation.

At last we "came down". I let out a great shuddering gasp. Looking down I saw Ronald grinning up at me.

"Oh amn, that was fantastic, but FANTASTIC!"

"Oh, did I need that! What a fuck!"

Ronald's chest and belly were literally covered in my spunk. All that pent-up juice had exploded in one go. He dipped his finers in it and sucked them.

"I love your spunky jissom, Steve". He ran his fingers up and down my semi-hard cock and sucked them again.

I lifted myself up and his half-hard cock slipped out my arse. I crawled up to lay next to him, and we began kissing and feeling eachother again. In a few minutes, we were kissing with moths open, hot tongues sliding together. I felt my cock getting hard-on again, and reached down to grasp Ronald's prick. I found it whanging in the air again. I tore my mouth away from his and murmered;

"Randy bastard!" We carried on kissing, gently wanking eachother again. I knew that one fuck wasn't enough to make up for two and a half weeks, however much spunk I host.

I felt the climax nearing again, and sensed Ronald was near too, the way his steel-hard cock began to tremble. Our kissing and licking became wilder, and we exploded within a second of each other, thrilling to our climaxes, and enjoying that wonderful feel of spunk-covered cocks.

Ronald whispered in my ear;
"More cream, sir?" I giggled.
"I'll take all you've got".

HOT LEVANTINE

FANCY A LEVANTINE LOVER?

Maybe this arousing sample of Labanese sexuality is enough to propell you to the airport in search of more of the same, because he had a similar effect on me when he turned up at the office one beautiful Saturday mourning.

So much so, in fact that I immediately summoned a cab, grabbed the camera, and within an hour, we were in beautiful countryside with his trousers off. The name? Joseph Hassan—over here learning a little English to facilitate his ambition to be a Hotelier back home, when tourism gets under way again after the civil strife.

Vital statistics? 21 years old, 5'9", 11 stone, with a tidy 41" chest and 28" waist. And a divinely strokeable hairy chest!

Fully Adjustable £63 D13
Command Harness

For the Stud who doesn't need to prove what he's at! He just knows it! This Command Harness is what you've been waiting and looking for. 1.3/8 inch straps at shoulders, chest and waist, made of top quality cowhide, riveted to 2 specially heavy guage stainless steel rings at back – all fully adjustable for at least three sizes onto 2 more heavy rings at front. This clever design even allows for differing heights by further adjustment of centre straps, giving a comfortable and eye-enhancing fit for most well developed Studs. Comes complete with 2 under crutch straps both adjustable, connecting to the cock ring to use, either through crack of cheeks connecting to waist ring at back, or snugly round your buns, up to ring at front (as illustrated). No wonder we call this harness 'Fully Adjustable'!! Pattern of chrome popper studs on front are matched by chrome studs at back. Get this superb piece of gear. You won't be disappointed!

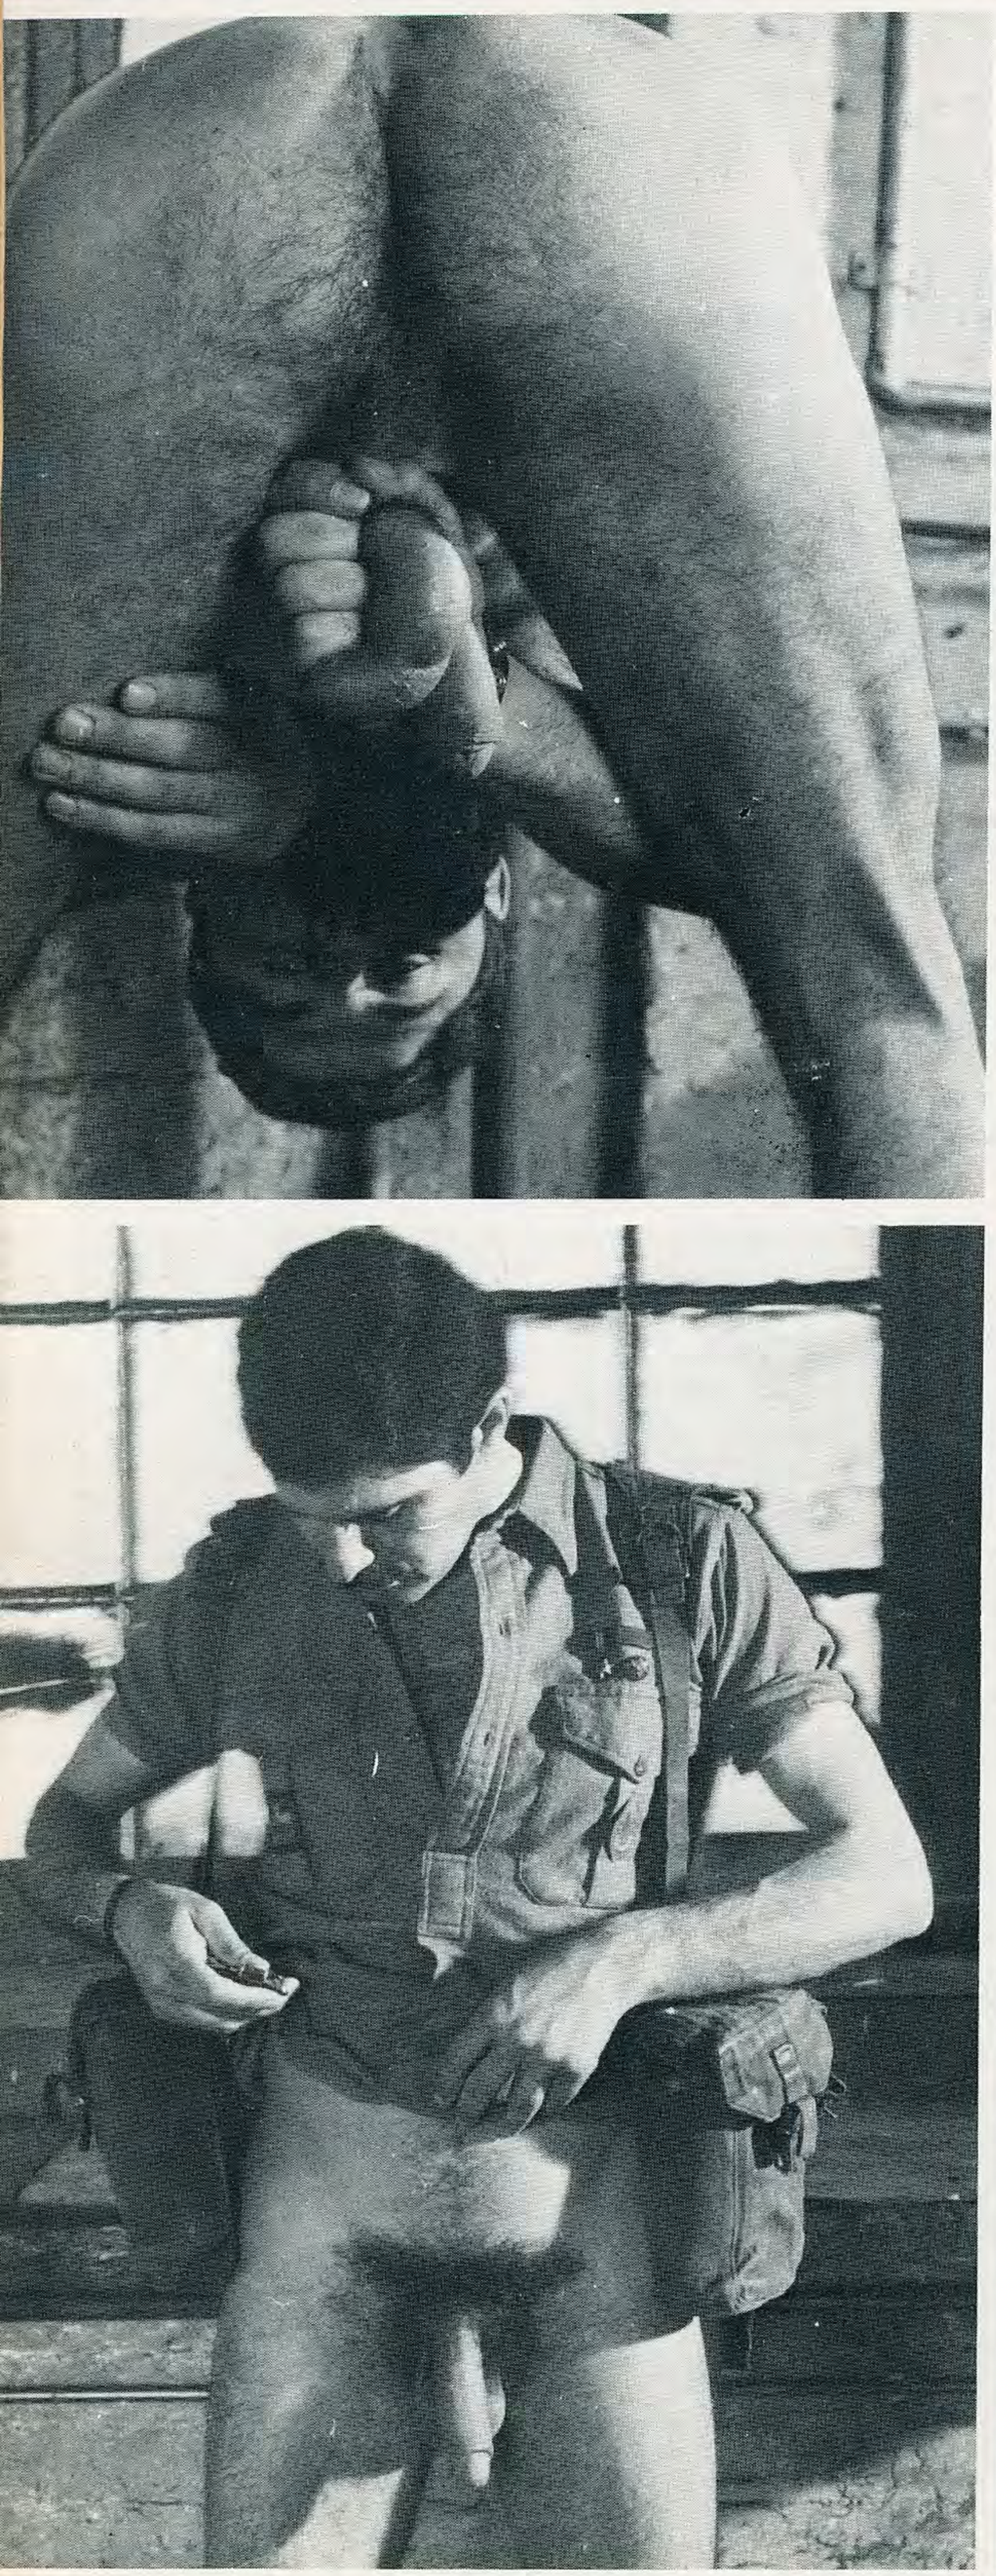
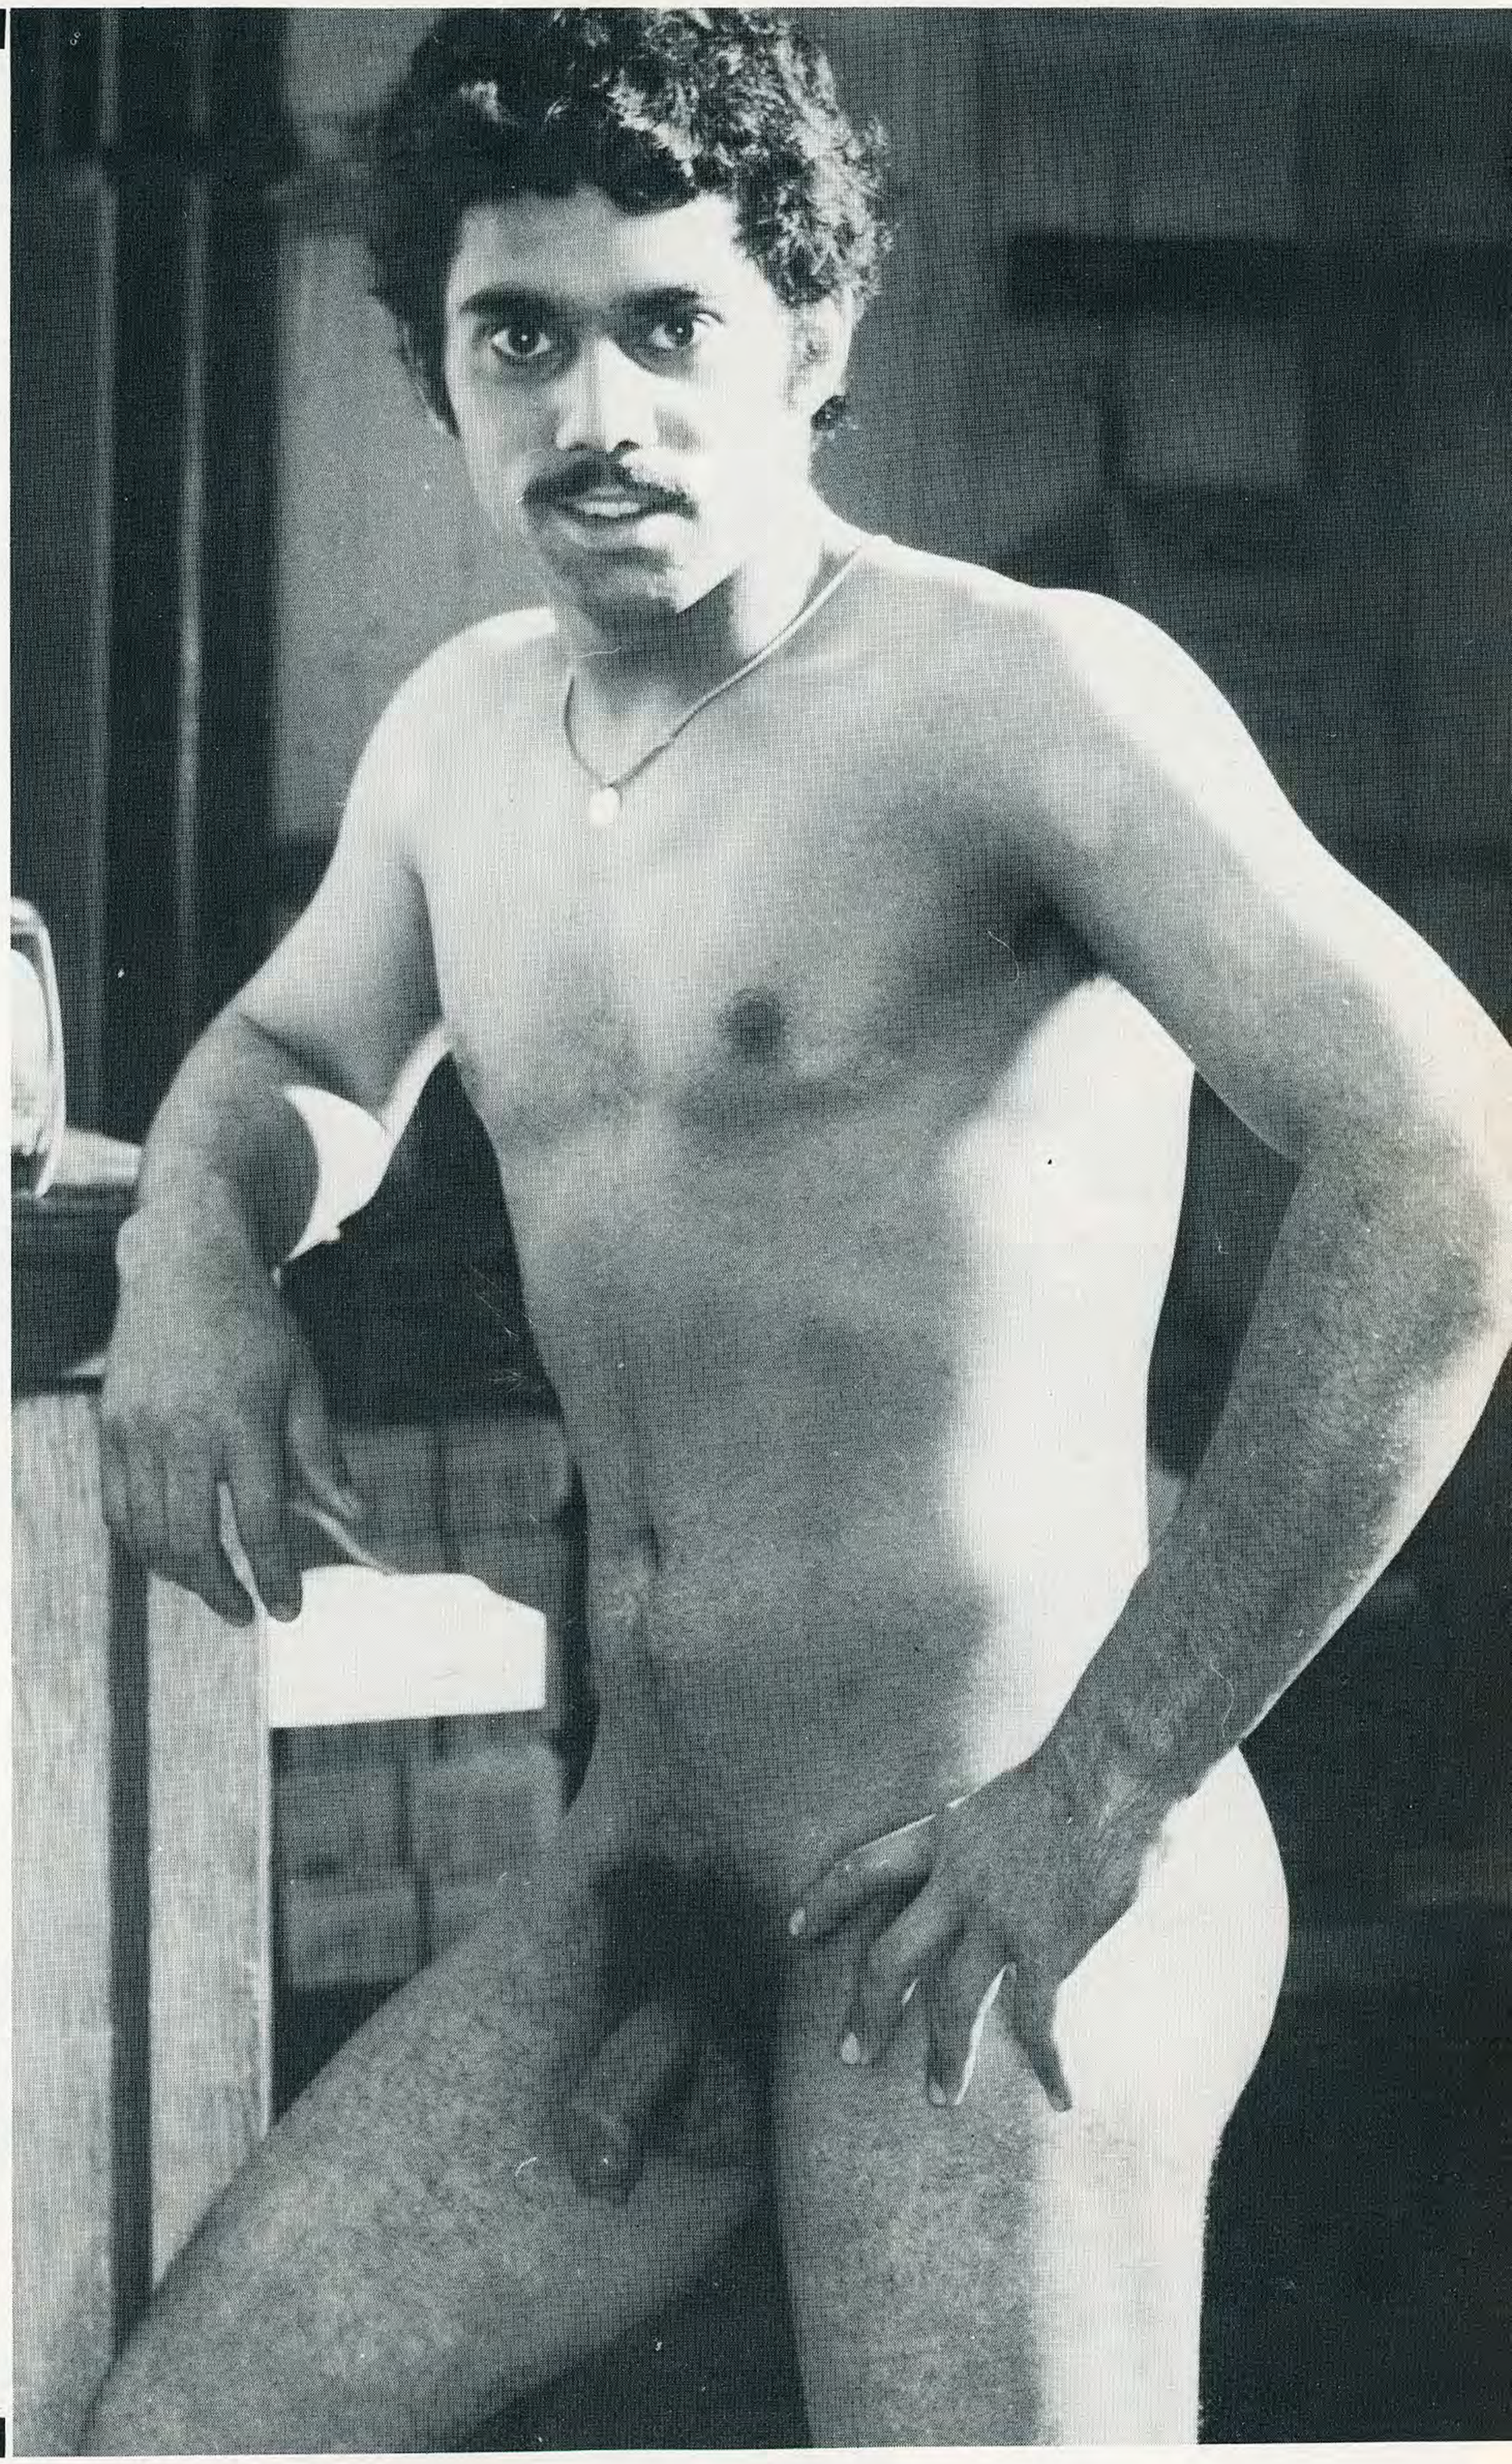
INTO UNIFORMS.

Would you like to order now Sir? Because Berto Alveda works as a waiter in a West End restaurant, and often finds people coming back for seconds. Born in Portugal, he has already mastered the lingo very well, but has quite deliberately kept that gusty latin accent that drives a girl wild. Not just girls either!

As you can see, Berto is very keen on uniforms, and would have spent the entire evening trying on everything in the studio if I'd let him. One day perhaps I will.

ALEX MCKENNA





TONY CLIFFORD obviously knows his Onions! Being the right-hand man of a rural grover, you really need to know your spring greens inside out. One of his daily jobs is delivering boxes of provisions to outlying customers, and he get to meet a lot of interesting people that way.

As you can see, Tony has a nice dash of Mediterranean blood in him, and I rather think his hot nature comes across well in the photos.
